Commander's Corner

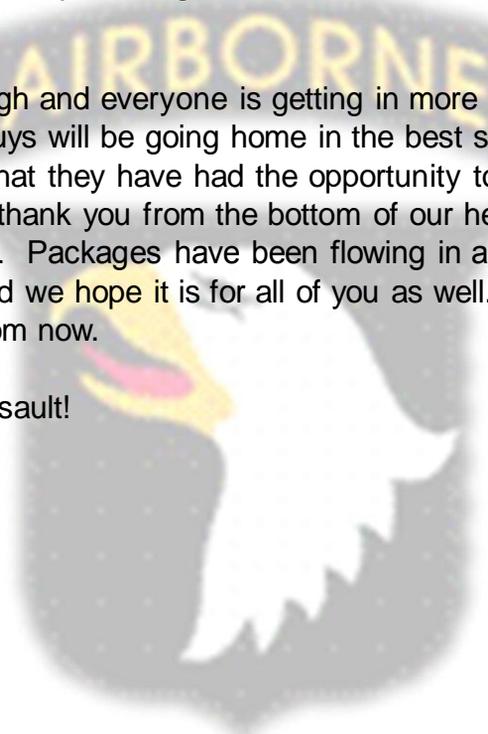

Families of Team Renegade,

Your Soldiers continue to perform admirably during Operation Enduring Freedom XIII. As advisors, everyone is greatly excelling and performing above and beyond what was expected of them. Our Afghan counterparts are conducting successful battalion size clearances of major insurgent safe havens due in large part to the tireless efforts of your loved ones.

Spirits are high and everyone is getting in more than enough physical training. Some of these guys will be going home in the best shape of their lives and will have amazing stories of what they have had the opportunity to experience with our Afghan counterparts. We thank you from the bottom of our hearts for all of the support we're receiving from home. Packages have been flowing in almost non stop. Time continues to fly by here and we hope it is for all of you as well. We look forward to seeing you not too long from now.

Strike Force, Strike, Air Assault!

Highlight Events:

Full run-through of MDMP:

Recently, the whole team conducted a full Military Decision Making Process for the Relief In Place/Transfer Of Authority for the ANA. Commonly conducted by a staff of senior Captains and Majors, six intrepid Infantry Lieutenants, led through the process by CPT Nardelli, put in the hours of work to produce mission analysis and course of action development and comparison products. Though the intent was met and a course of action selected, the endeavor left the team thankful that this is not a common occurrence for Lieutenants.

Toufan 28:

Beginning with the always auspicious sign of no plan, Toufan 28 was another clearance operation conducted in the kandak's Area of Operations. Contrary to the last clearance, this operation saw the kandak take to the field for an extended stay and operate in a Tactical Command Center rather than a picnic table. Advising a truly joint operation, Renegades help integrate Afghan Uniformed Police, Border Police, and National Directorate of Security(Afghan FBI/CIA) operatives into an operation that cleared an area that had been held by the Insurgents for years.
